

Mining, Metallurgy & Exploration (MME)

Instructions on Submitting Your SME Preprint Manuscript

If you are a presenter at an SME Conference and have a preprint manuscript, we welcome its submission to the SME Mining, Metallurgy & Exploration journal. You can submit your manuscript to both the conference preprint USB and for peer review in the MME journal, provided it has not been previously published anywhere else. All submitted manuscripts will go through peer review by the MME Editorial Board, and accepted manuscripts are published in the journal.

To increase the chances of your manuscript being accepted for publication, write it in the form of a technical journal paper with all the elements of such a paper. Consider MME's aims and scope, which are to publish high-quality original research publications, in-depth special review articles, reviews of state-of-the-art and innovative technologies and industry methodologies, communications of work of topical and emerging interest, and other works that enhance understanding on both the fundamental and practical levels.

Steps to take:

- First, go to springer.com/42461 and click on "Submission guidelines" to access the Instructions for Authors.
- To submit, click on "Submit manuscript."
- There is no deadline for submission to the journal.

Why submit to MME?

- Journal impact factor of 1.020, and coverage in Clarivate Analytics' Web of Science.
- Online First publication within 16-21 days of acceptance.
- No charge for publication.
- No restrictions on number of pages/figures.
- Free electronic access by all SME members.
- Extended abstract printed in Mining Engineering.
- Hybrid model, with Open Access option available.
- Expanded reach to libraries and professionals worldwide through SpringerLink.
- Abstracted and indexed in Current Contents, Science Citation Index Expanded, Scopus, Ebsco, ProQuest, Google Scholar and many more.

Email Chee Theng at theng@smenet.org if you have any questions or need any help.

Thank you for supporting SME and MME!